Fibeco is a Polish company operating in Lodz, established on the base of long-term experience in the field of modern textiles, employing top-quality professionals and as one of the few companies in Europe specialising in the production of high grade meltblown fabric.

We have our own modern machinery park, production line and in-house laboratory testing each batch of fabric put onto the market. As a responsible, reliable producer we attach great importance to quality and we monitor on an ongoing basis optimum meltblown properties and bacterium and virus filtration parameters BFE >98%. Our ready product is finally sold in the form of a bale with a weight of about 8 kg, including 1500 meters of fabric with a width of 17,5 cm.

We ensure high service standards, quick order completion, reliability, fairness and safe transactions. We focus on quality, continued production process control, improvement of modern technologies with the knowledge that our product has direct influence on the protection of health and life.
